UAE Introduces Faster Work Permits and Visas: Now Issued in Just 5 Days

The UAE Ministry of Human Resources and Emiratisation (MOHRE) announced on Tuesday, June 11, 2024, the expansion of the "Work Bundle" initiative for companies nationwide.

This initiative enables companies to manage all employee visa and work permit procedures through a single platform, as announced at a press conference. The "Work Bundle," available at workinuae.ae, simplifies and accelerates these processes for private sector companies.

The Work Bundle, which first launched in March 2024 for companies in Dubai, has now entered its second phase, extending its services to companies across the UAE. This platform handles employment services, including renewals, cancellations, medical examinations, and fingerprinting.

How the Work Bundle Saves Companies Time

The Work Bundle aims to streamline bureaucratic procedures and save time for businesses:

- Five days: Total time to complete a visa and work permit application.
- Five documents: Required documents reduced from 16 to five.
- Two visits: Employees need only visit twice—once for the medical test and once for the Emirates ID biometric scan. All payments are centralized through the unified platform.

Work Bundle Services

1. Hiring a new employee:

- Issuing a new work permit
- Requesting a status adjustment
- Issuing a visa
- Issuing an employment contract
- Issuing Emirates ID and residency
- Medical examination services

2. Renewing a work contract:

- Renewing the employee's work contract
- Renewing Emirates ID and residency
- Medical examination services

3. Cancelling employment:

- Cancelling a work permit
- Cancelling residency

Saudi Arabia's Tourism Sector Grows Over 32%

Saudi Arabia's travel and tourism sector grew by 32% in 2023, contributing a record $118.4 billion (Dh434.8 billion) to the country's GDP, according to a new report.

The World Travel and Tourism Council's 2024 Economic Impact Research highlighted these unprecedented achievements in GDP contribution, employment, and visitor spending.

In 2023, Saudi Arabia welcomed 100 million tourists, achieving its Vision 2030 target seven years ahead of schedule. Launched by the government in 2016, the Saudi Vision 2030 program aims to diversify the economy away from the oil sector, focusing on a vibrant society, a thriving economy, and an ambitious nation.

Given this success, the goal was increased to 150 million tourists, reflecting Saudi Arabia's ongoing ambitions for the sector. The sector's 32% growth last year accounted for 11.5% of the total economy, marking a nearly 30% increase from the previous high and highlighting its critical role in the country's economic landscape.

India Repatriates Bodies of 45 Workers Killed in Kuwait Fire

The bodies of 45 Indian workers who died in a fire at a labor housing facility in Kuwait were flown back to India on Friday. Bereaved relatives and experts are urging New Delhi to enhance protections for those working abroad and sending remittances home.

The fire, which occurred on Wednesday in the housing facility in Mangaf, a coastal city south of Kuwait City, is believed to have been caused by an electrical short circuit. Among the 49 casualties, 45 were Indian workers, while 33 others are currently being treated in hospitals.

Television coverage showed grieving families waiting at the airport to receive the bodies of their loved ones. Upon arrival, the coffins, each adorned with a photograph of the deceased, were placed on separate tables in the airport's cargo complex.

Families, friends, ministers, and officials paid homage as police provided a guard of honor. Twenty-three of the deceased were from Kerala, and the state's chief minister, Pinarayi Vijayan, called the accident "a national tragedy."

"This is the biggest tragedy involving migrants. We consider the migrants our lifeline. It's a significant loss to the state," Vijayan told reporters.

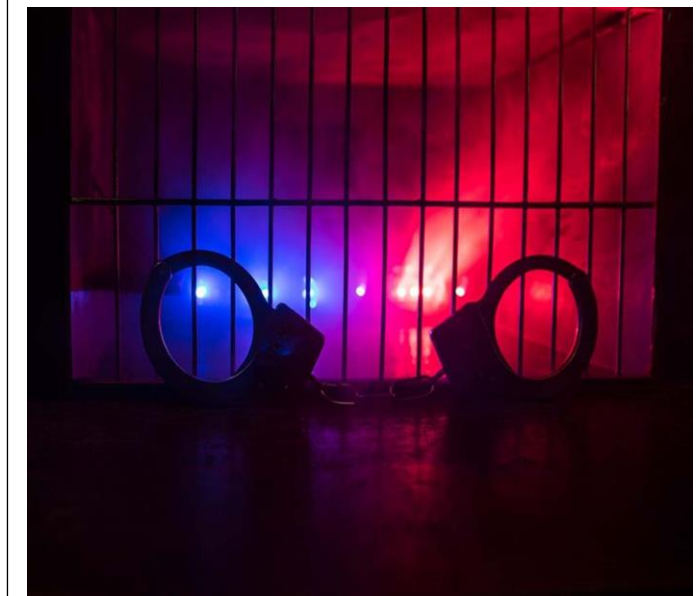

In Kuwait and its Gulf neighbors, millions of foreign workers, including many Indians, form the majority of the labor force and often live in overcrowded conditions. On Thursday, Kuwaiti prosecutors ordered the detention of one citizen and several residents on manslaughter charges due to safety negligence at the building. India's foreign ministry reported that 176 workers lived in the facility. The other deceased included three Filipino workers, according to the Philippine migrant workers ministry, which also stated that two more Filipinos are in critical condition in the hospital.

Local authorities did not specify the workers' employment sectors, though Kuwait, like other Gulf states, heavily relies on foreign labor in industries such as construction.

Approximately 13 million Indians work abroad, with over 60 percent in Gulf nations, according to data shared by the Indian foreign ministry in 2023. Nearly 850,000 Indians work in Kuwait, making it the third-highest destination for Indian migrant workers. The Indian foreign ministry claims to have a "robust mechanism" for monitoring working conditions abroad, but commentators argue that more needs to be done.

Kuwait Imposes Six-Month Jail Term and KD600 Fine for Harboring Visa Violators

Kuwait has issued a stern warning that residents found sheltering or employing visa violators will face severe penalties, including six months of imprisonment or a fine of up to KD600 (Dh7,180), as outlined in Article 12 of the Foreigners Law.

Brigadier Yousef Al Ayoub, Director of the Residency Affairs General Department in the Ministry of Interior, announced that stringent penalties will be enforced on individuals and entities violating the country's Residency Law. These measures are part of an intensified campaign by the ministry to identify and arrest Residency Law violators who have failed to amend their status or leave the country within the grace period provided under amnesty.

Al Ayoub emphasized that the grace period was intended to reduce the number of violators, but those who do not comply will be pursued rigorously. In addition to targeting individual violators, the ministry is also focusing on fake companies that exploit foreign workers by hiring them without providing actual employment. These companies will be blocked and referred to the Public Prosecution.

Al Ayoub reaffirmed that the ministry is committed to eradicating such practices to protect workers and maintain legal and demographic order in the country. The Ministry of Interior has also launched new online services to streamline the residency process. Meanwhile, the higher committee addressing Kuwait's demographic imbalance continues to explore solutions, including implementing quotas for different expatriate communities.

Scam Targets Job Seekers for Sharjah Indian School

A new recruitment scam involving an Indian school in the UAE has come to light, with fraudsters demanding money for visas via WhatsApp messages.

The Indian Association Sharjah (IAS), which runs the Sharjah Indian School (SIS), has issued a warning about a fake job scam. Messages falsely advertising job vacancies for teaching and non-teaching staff at SIS have been circulating, soliciting CVs from potential candidates. These messages, sent from UAE mobile numbers, primarily target Indians, especially those from Kerala, according to Nisar Thalagara of the IAS.

"The scammers promised direct recruitment to our school and demanded over Dh4,000 for arranging visas, air tickets, insurance, and medical fitness tests," Thalagara explained.

The scam was uncovered after the association received inquiries about the supposed job openings.

"These scammers use UAE numbers that are active only on WhatsApp and frequently change them. They exploit WhatsApp groups to cheat people. We are aware of multiple groups and platforms falsely soliciting CVs on our behalf."

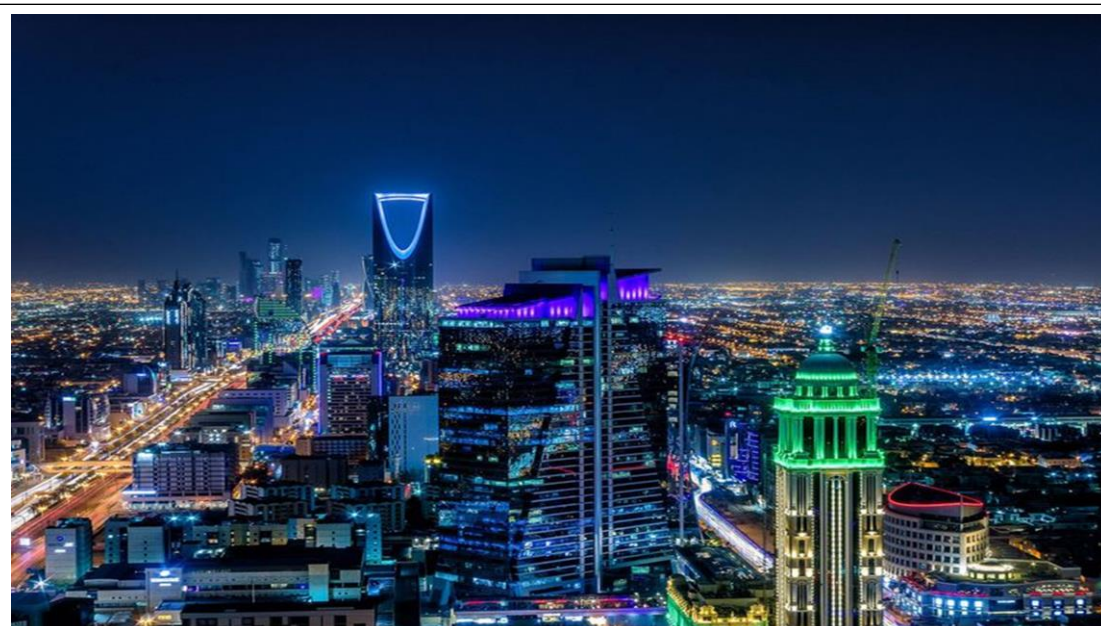

Thalagara advised potential candidates to avoid falling victim to such scams. "We have never authorized any agency or individual to recruit staff for our institution, nor have we solicited funds for such purposes." He stated that teaching faculty are interviewed only after their CVs are submitted through the school's official website. "For non-teaching staff, we maintain a database with referrals and recruit them after face-to-face interviews." The matter has been reported to authorities for legal action.

Registration Fee Scam

In a related incident, another recruitment scam was reported this week. "Three people came to the association, claiming they were asked to hand over Dh300 as a recruitment application registration fee," Thalagara said.

IAS staff members noticed the trio and discovered they were being scammed. "The fake recruiters asked candidates to come to the association to make it seem legitimate. When our staff called them, they got cold feet and didn't show up. Their numbers were deactivated."

Thalagara emphasized that people should be cautious of recruitment agencies or individuals seeking registration fees for job interviews. "This is not allowed under UAE laws. Nobody can even charge a Dh10 fee. But some scammers collect registration fees and make money illegally," he added.

Additionally, the sector saw significant job growth, adding 436,000 jobs to surpass 2.5 million. Nearly one in five jobs in the country is now in this sector, with employment increasing by nearly 24% since the previous peak, recovering from pandemic-related losses by 2022.

The report also indicated that international visitor spending surged by almost 57%, reaching $60.6 billion (Dh222.5 billion).
